FORM FOLLOWS QUBE

The term QUBE comes from the Latin word „cubus“, which means „cube“.
With QUBE, the form is reduced to basic geometric shapes such as a cube, a sphere or a pyramid.

The result is a sculpture with high design standards and maximum utility.

Quality for the highest expectations.

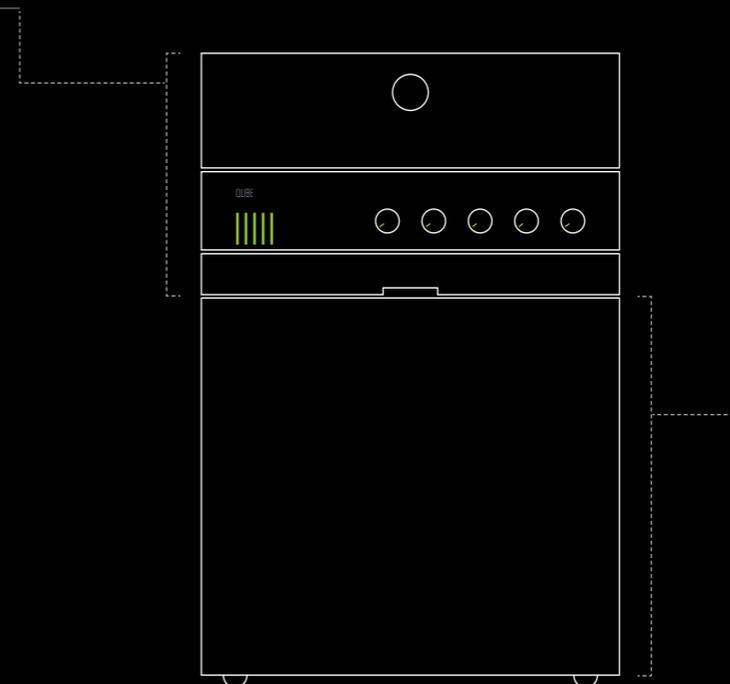

QUBE „LITTLE“ BUT A LOT OF IT

The sculptural effect of the QUBE allows for only one possibility in terms of materiality: the highest quality standards regarding substance and resistance.

V2A with powder coating in five possible colours.

V2A natural brushed or with black powder coating.

QUBE

Developed in Zurich, this designer barbecue impresses with its clean lines, cubic silhouette and elegance that blends harmoniously into any environment. Available in pure stainless steel or matt black with an elegant matt black ceramic coating, it combines modernity and style at the highest level.

But it's not just the design that impresses: three main burners made of cast stainless steel, an integrated infrared steak zone with up to 900 °C and a back burner open up an impressive temperature range from 90 °C to extreme heat. Perfect for low & slow, searing or skewered dishes.

High-quality materials guarantee even temperatures, perfect branding and durability. A special side effect: the stainless steel used is of such high quality that the QUBE is „seasalt ready“. Salty coastal air cannot harm the barbecue.

So outdoor enthusiasts can look forward to a unique atmosphere in the garden or on the terrace. The LED ambient lighting with colour selection bathes the surroundings and the QUBE in atmospheric light.

QUBE is more than just a barbecue: it is a stylish statement for unforgettable outdoor moments, either as a stand-alone barbecue or as the centrepiece of an outdoor kitchen.
