THE SWISS WAY THE EASY WAY

EASY BBQ, Simply Brilliant

Simple, easy, effortless ...

There are many words to describe our very chill approach to smoking hot things. At OUTDOORCHEF, we say "It's all extremely easy" – and by that we're talking about our promise for one-of-a-kind grill experiences.

We like the simple things

Turn any grill into a smoker or grill easily without burning fat, but with plenty of roasting flavours.

Let our wide range of products convince and inspire you.

TURN UP THE HEAT

EASY BBQ

by outdoorchef

The broadest range of temperatures available on the market offers you the widest spectrum of preparation options

SMOKING HOT

Turn your grill into smoking chamber and smoke cold, warm, or hot with the Smoke – starting from just 15 °C

COOKING WITH THE GRILL

Whether low, medium, or high temperatures – simmer sauces, prepare meat, cook potatoes, or create delicious wok dishes

BAKING WITH THE GRILL

Bake bread, cakes, appetizer pastries, or pizza to perfection at medium or high temperatures with a convection effect

CLASSIC GRILLING & BBQ

Low-cook at 80 °C, prepare an authentic American BBQ at 100 - 120 °C, or cook large pieces of meat, vegetables, or fish at higher temperatures

PLANCHA ON THE GRILL

Serve mediterranean delights like seafood and vegetables, or fry burger patties on the hot plancha

"Pork chop dreams come true – even without breading."

Your Ingredients

4 pork chops with rind	1.000 g
Your favourite spice rub	8 tbsp.
Rapeseed oil	4 tbsp.
Butter	80 g
Fresh thyme	A pinch
Fresh rosemary	A pinch
Dark chocolate	120 g

Directions

- Preparation: Mix 2 tbsp. of your favourite spice rub with 1 tbsp. of rapeseed oil. Gently massage this mixture into your pork chops. Once fully coated in your delicious marinade, vacuum-seal them. Alternatively, wrap them tightly in transparent film. Let the wrapped chops marinate at room temperature for about an hour.
- Once your meat is ready, you can preheat the grill to 80 °C. Meanwhile, let the Blazinglas® heat up on your infrared zone for about 10 minutes.
- After removing the vacuum bag or transparent film from your chops, score the rind. Ideally, use 1 cm spacing and a depth of 0.5 cm.
- Sear the chops on the Blazinglas® for about 5 minutes on all sides, including the rind. Then, place the chops in your preheated grill at 80 °C for 10 minutes. In the meantime, melt the butter.
- Once the cutlets are ready, remove them from the cooking area, brush with melted butter, and sprinkle with thyme and rosemary.
- For the perfect crust, briefly sear the chops again on the Blazinglas®, then wrap in aluminum foil and let them rest for another 10 minutes.
- To serve, grate some chocolate and let it melt over the meat.

And The Mindblowing BBQ Brownie

When our grill chef from Zurich dreams, it's always about grilled delicacies. He proves his skills with his delicious brownies straight from the grill.

4x

... or 15 - 20 Brownies
just for you

Your Ingredients

Butter (room temperature)	170 g
Dark chocolate (50 %)	120 g, coarsely chopped
Sugar	400 g
Eggs	3 large eggs
Vanilla extract	2 tsp.
Unsweetened cocoa powder	80 g
All-purpose flour	125 g
Salt	1 tsp.
Dark chocolate (min. 60 %)	220 g (chocolate chips or finely chopped)
Powdered sugar	2 tbsp.
Butcher paper or parchment paper

Directions

- Preparation: Preheat the grill to 200 °C and line the gourmet pan with parchment or butcher paper.
- Place a heatproof bowl over a hot water bath and melt the butter and half the dark chocolate (60 g) and whisk until smooth. Gradually fold in the sugar until fully combined, then mix in the eggs and vanilla extract. The mixture should now be light brown and matte.
- Add the cocoa powder, flour, salt, and the remaining dark chocolate. Stir thoroughly once more. Finally, remove the bowl from the heat and fold in the dark chocolate chips. The mixture should now be very thick and sticky.
- Evenly spread the mixture in the gourmet pan with a spatula and bake on the preheated grill at about 200 °C for 30 - 35 minutes. Test the consistency with a wooden pick. Insert it into the center of the brownie. If the mixture completely sticks to the pick, the brownie needs more time. When only a few moist crumbs cling to it, the brownie is ready to enjoy!
- Once baked, carefully remove the brownie from the gourmet pan and let it cool for a few minutes. Then sprinkle with a little powdered sugar, cut into the desired pieces and indulge.

A MATTER OF MATERIALS

Sometimes, it's essential to know the details. Do you prefer heat retention, dishwasher-friendly cleaning, or a lightweight material? Here are some useful insights

CAST IRON

- Heavy material with a porous surface
- Slow to absorb heat but retains it exceptionally well
- For lasting durability, season and grease regularly
- Not suitable for the dishwasher

CARBON STEEL*

- Lightweight material
- Heats up quickly but retains little heat
- Non-stick properties due to its hammered surface
- For lasting durability, season and grease regularly
- Not suitable for the dishwasher

PORCELAIN-ENAMEL

- Enamel-coating protects the steel underneath from rust
- Quick heat absorption with minimal heat retention
- Minimizes food sticking
- Prone to flaking
- Dishwasher-safe

STAINLESS STEEL

- Durable and rust-resistant
- Easy cleaning
- Quick heat absorption with minimal heat retention
- May discolour after use
- Dishwasher-safe

What is Carbon Steel?

Carbon steel, an alloy of iron and carbon, is perfect for grill use thanks to its exceptional mechanical properties and hardness. The higher the carbon content in steel, the harder and stronger it becomes. However, carbon steel is prone to corrosion! Proper care and protection are essential. After cooking, thoroughly remove any residues, rinse with hot water, dry, and coat with a small amount of sunflower or rapeseed oil.

ALEXANDER DEHN

And The Irresistible Pulled Pork Burger

"Alex," from our sales team, knows our products inside and out and how to bring our grills to peak performance. He showcases his expertise here. As the passionate grill enthusiast he is, he demonstrates his top-notch grilling skills.

TASTE & TEAM

By Alexander Dehn

Your ingredients

Boneless pork neck	1 kg
Chopped garlic	3 cloves
Pepper (black)	1 tbsp.
Szechuan pepper	1 tbsp.
Chili flakes	1 tbsp.
Sea salt (coarse)	1/2 tbsp.
Burger buns	4 pieces
BBQ-Sauce	150 ml
Coleslaw

Directions

- Start by seasoning the meat. For the rub, we used chopped garlic, black peppercorns, Szechuan pepper, chili flakes, and coarse sea salt. These were finely ground in a mortar and applied to the meat, which was left to marinate overnight.
- Alternatively, place the seasoned meat in a bag and vacuum seal it. This helps further intensify the seasoning.
- Next, prepare the grill. Ensure the grill maintains a cooking chamber temperature between 100 °C and 110 °C, keeping it steady (leave the HEAT regulator open on the HEAT).
- Meanwhile, prepare the smoke. Since the smoking process will last almost the entire time, use the filling funnel to extend it to approximately 4 - 5 hours. Fill the funnel with beech chips and guide the Smoke silicone tube into the grill through the rotisserie opening in the lid. Light the smoke only after placing the meat on the grill. The smoke is dense, making the cooking chamber more visible.
- Place the meat on the grill now. Leave it in the smoke for the next 12 - 20 hours. From this point, regularly monitor the temperature, check the smoke, and refill the chips as needed ... and wait!
- Cook the meat at approx. When the meat reaches an internal temperature of approximately 90 °C, remove it from the grill and let it rest for 30 - 60 minutes. For example, use a thermal container to keep it warm.
- Shred the meat into fine pieces and mix it with BBQ sauce. Layer the pulled pork and coleslaw on the bottom half of the bun. Place the top half of the bun on - done!

STEFFEN PFAAR

And The Most Mouthwatering Pizza From The Grill

Steffen is more than just a familiar face from the OUTDOORCHEF world. An active member of a grill team, he frequently competes in the World Grill Championships and other grilling contests. For him, pizza is second nature.

In Italy, flour types are also assigned specific designations. The type numbers apply exclusively to soft wheat flour, known as "farina" in Italian. It is available in Tipo 00, Tipo 0, Tipo 1, and Tipo 2 varieties. The higher the number, the darker the flour and the greater its mineral content. Pizza flour is typically Tipo 00 flour.

TASTE & TEAM
By Steffen Pfarr

Your Ingredients

Italian flour	1 kg
Italian durum wheat semolina (Semola)	Approx. 500 g (depending on needs)
Ice-Cold water	650 g (precisely measured)
Fresh yeast	3 g
(Alternatively, dry yeast)	6 g
Salt	30 g

Directions

- The secret to a perfect pizza, aside from the temperature, is autolysis.
- Combine the flour with the ice-cold water and let it rest for 30 minutes. During this time, the flour absorbs the liquid, initiating gluten development. No kneading, no hassle. The minimal yeast allows the dough to rest for an extended time. This extended fermentation enhances the aroma's intensity.
- After the autolysis, add the remaining water with dissolved yeast to the dough. Add the salt, which enhances the flavour and regulates yeast growth. This enables the dough to fully develop over several hours.
- Begin by kneading in the bowl until a smooth texture forms, then transfer to the work surface, using a skilled left-right rhythm until the dough stops sticking. Perform a quick windowpane test by stretching the dough between your fingers to check if the first protein chains have formed.
- Let the dough rest in the refrigerator for 24 hours. The next day, divide the dough into six equal pieces, each weighing 260 - 270 g, stretch and fold them again, then let them rest in the fridge for another 18 hours. Remove the dough pieces from the fridge six hours before baking and let them rest at room temperature.
- Place the dough piece in semola to shape it perfectly. Gently press the air from the center of the dough outward toward the edge. Avoid flattening the edge; it should remain fluffy and airy – just as a Neapolitan pizza should be.
- Now add the toppings – simple and classic: San Marzano tomato sauce, mozzarella, and a drizzle of quality olive oil. Preheat the pizza stone in your Outdoorchef gas grill to maximum temperature, allowing your perfect pizza to be ready in just 4 - 6 minutes.

STEPHAN PFEIFER – INSIGHTS FROM OUR CHIEF DEVELOPER

Our mission is to make preparing delicious dishes on the grill easy – even without special expertise. Our goal is to enhance the grill experience with innovative ideas and materials while reducing obstacles. We call this "EASY BBQ".

"You never grill alone" has been a cornerstone of our product development history. You grill with friends and family, at birthdays, and during events. Barbecuing brings people together. Our mission is to simplify barbecuing, so you can spend less time at the grill and more time with your friends and guests.

Innovative technology for effortless grilling

The EASY BBQ development principle requires our development team to think not only in terms of cost efficiency and ergonomics, but also in terms of specific benefits.

For us, this means Making it as simple and high-quality as possible!

Since we value simplicity, we created the pizza stone with a temperature display. Not only does it bake pizza dough, but it also reliably indicates when the stone has reached the perfect baking temperature. Baking pizza becomes effortless.

Our Blazinglas® marks another milestone. Our challenge was to ensure the perfect crust while preventing fat from burning. The Blazinglas® achieves exactly that: No fat drips onto the burner, it delivers perfect sear marks, maintains temperature stability, and is easy to clean under running water – even when hot. The Blazinglas® was developed in collaboration with SCHOTT Glas, a renowned glass manufacturer from Germany.

Time-saving and convenient

In developing the new HEAT outdoor kitchen, we carefully examined logistics and usability alongside its specific features. As a result, the cabinet modules are delivered pre-assembled on pallets.

This offers a major benefit to our customers: Easy setup, no additional assembly required.

Safety in operation

The Gas Safety System (GSS) has further enhanced the safety of our products. The Flame Guard shields the burner from weather conditions and automatically reignites the flame if it goes out. The Safety Light signals when the valve is open and gas is flowing.

Maximum versatility

Imagine working with various grill plates and grids while maintaining two separate temperature zones simultaneously. With a temperature difference of up to 100 °C. That's why we developed the HEAT Divider.

This innovative accessory lets you achieve two cooking cabinet temperatures quickly, and it works perfectly with the rotisserie. For smaller portions, use just a part of the cooking space to save gas and reduce environmental impact.

A CONVERSATION WITH OUR GRILL MASTER VOLKER ELM

Volker, where does your passion for barbecuing come from?

Actually, OUTDOORCHEF itself is the reason. Years ago, a sales representative approached me and passionately praised the system. Determined to convince me, he left my first ASCONA on my doorstep, and after just one use, I was hooked! And that's despite the fact that no fire or flame is visible in the gas kettle.

You've had a close connection with our company for many years. Why did you choose OUTDOORCHEF?

The gas kettle grill concept perfectly aligns with my approach to grilling, cooking, and outdoor cuisine. I can prepare anything that comes to mind on it! There's culinary adventure I can't do on an OUTDOORCHEF. The wide temperature range gives me every option I could ever wish for.

Which product has had the biggest impact on you?

My all-time favorite is, and always will be, the gas kettle system. In recent years, the pizza stone has joined the lineup, originating right here at OUTDOORCHEF. Its high temperature and unique material properties guarantee

He is renowned in the BBQ community as a vibrant expert and former president of the German Barbecue Association. His barbecuing expertise even earned him a feature in BILD newspaper. His most memorable moment came when he invented the volcano position for the OUTDOORCHEF kettle, securing his place in OUTDOORCHEF history. Discover why he stands by his OUTDOORCHEFs and what else he has to share.

the perfect pizza with a crispy crust. But OUTDOORCHEF's latest products are absolutely brilliant: The Smoke and Blazinglas®. As my own toughest critic, I thoroughly test and consider every detail before incorporating new products into my grill courses. Both products won me over instantly.

As an experienced grill master, you've been hosting grill seminars for years. What interests your participants the most? What kinds of questions do they ask?

Interestingly, this question comes up in almost every seminar: "What can't I grill on it? ". This demonstrates that participants don't expect the system to offer such versatility. I always reply: "You can grill anything – even ice cream."

You encourage your customers to focus on their guests and let the grill handle the work. What do you mean by that?

I used to spend 90 % of my time at the grill, leaving little attention for my guests. Today, it's the opposite. I create the most delicious and juiciest dishes without any rush or stress. Place the food on the grill, close the lid, and let the even indirect heat surround it until it's perfectly cooked. There's no need to constantly flip the food or worry about it burning.

What sets OUTDOORCHEF grills apart from other brands?

It's more accurate to say that anyone who understands the system can easily become a grill master. It encourages experiments and confidence because the system offers so much flexibility. With other grills, people tend to grill the same things repeatedly.

If you could pick three OUTDOORCHEF products to impress your guests, which ones would you choose?

The large plancha, as it allows for a variety of dishes – from sweet to savoury. Its XL size lets me prepare multiple ingredients simultaneously while working with two temperature zones. It's incredibly easy to clean. Then the Smoke, because I can even use it to smoke in a shoebox (laughs). I can easily control the smoking intensity – from mild to intense. I add just the right amount of smoke flavour to suit my taste. And, of course, the Blazinglas® on the high-temperature zone. It prevents grease fires and the metallic taste that can otherwise affect the food. Plus, it ensures a perfectly executed Maillard reaction. Absolutely brilliant.

WEALTH OF INVENTION WHO CAME UP WITH IT?

Self-praise can be tricky. But let's be honest: celebrating a great idea is absolutely fine. And if you were the first, that's twice the reason to celebrate.

GAS KETTLE GRILL

In 1992, Mike Lingwood wanted to treat guests at his daughter's birthday, young and old alike, to delicious food from a BBQ Station, quickly and easily. Flickering flames, heavy smoke, and burnt food were the result. He vowed to never let that happen again.

The concept of a system to prevent grease fires was born!

PIZZA STONE

It's true: OUTDOORCHEF developed and sold the very first pizza stone. It created a new market for retailers and a whole new taste experience for grill and pizza enthusiasts. This happened in 2015. Since then, we've further improved the pizza stone, now offering it in an octagonal shape for better temperature distribution and with an integrated temperature indicator.

SMOKE

The first truly self-sufficient external smoker, capable of turning any grill – or nearly any container – into a smoker.

BLAZINGLAS®

How can I prevent grease fires in the ceramic burner while achieving a perfect crust? Blazinglas® is the solution. Its permeability to infrared radiation delivers a unique combination of infrared and contact heat.

HEAT

The ultimate grilling machine with a temperature range of 80 - 900 °C. Perfectly suited as a BBQ Station or outdoor kitchen.

GETTING THE RIGHT CORE TEMPERATURE – EASY!

Core temperature refers to the internal temperature of the meat. It indicates the doneness of the meat, such as whether it is medium or well-done. Cooking time, on the other hand, indicates how long the meat needs to achieve the desired doneness. Naturally, this depends on the cooking temperature, as well as the size, weight, and type of meat.

The thickness of the meat significantly affects the cooking time. Thicker cuts take longer to reach the desired core temperature.

Cooking temperature is also crucial – it determines the heat the meat is exposed to during preparation. Higher temperatures result in shorter cooking times. However, caution is advised: This effect has its limits.

For many types of meat, slow cooking at low temperatures on a gas grill is best to keep them juicy. Classics like ribs and pulled pork are best cooked low and slow (see page 32).

With the GOURMET CHECK PRO you can determine it.

Carbon steel pan

Premium kitchen knife

XXL cutting board

"From the North African region straight to your grill. The Israeli national dish will transport you to the flavours of One Thousand and One Nights for breakfast."

Your Ingredients

Ground cumin	1/2 tsp.
Sweet paprika powder	1 tsp.
Pepper	1/2 tsp.
Salt	1 tsp.
Olive oil	2 tbsp.
Tomatoes, whole from the tin	300 g
Eggs	4 pieces
Red bell pepper	1 piece
Onion	1 piece
(alternatively zucchini or spinach leaves)
Garlic in fine strips	2 cloves
Parsley (and / or cilantro)	at your discretion
Red chili pepper	1/2 – 1 piece
Crumbled feta	30 g
Bread (sourdough, pita, or baguette)	at your discretion

Directions

- Peel the onion and garlic, then thinly slice them. Deseed the peppers and slice them into thin strips. Slice the chili pepper into rings (remove seeds if desired), pluck the parsley leaves from the stems, and chop finely.
- Meanwhile, preheat your OUTDOORCHEF to 200 °C. Heat your carbon steel pan on the Cooking Zone over low heat, add a little oil, and sauté the bell pepper strips.
- Once the peppers are softened, slightly increase the heat and sauté the garlic and chili rings for 2 - 3 minutes. Add the cumin and sauté briefly (about 1 minute). Add the tomatoes and mash them with a fork. Stir in the salt, pepper, and paprika powder. Simmer over medium heat for about 15 minutes until the mixture thickens slightly.
- Sprinkle the crumbled feta on top. Create four wells in the mixture in the pan for the eggs. Crack each egg and place it into a prepared well.
- Place the pan in the center of the preheated grill, remove the handle, and cook for approx. 4 to 5 minutes with the lid closed until the eggs are poached (yolk remains runny, eggwhite is set).
- Remove from the grill, sprinkle with parsley, and enjoy straight from the pan with bread or flatbread.
